Association football, more commonly known as football or soccer, [a] is a team sport played between two teams of 11 players each, who primarily use their feet to propel a ball around a rectangular field called a pitch.

The team that has scored more goals at the end of the game is the winner. It was a ceremonial rather than a competitive game, and involved the kicking of a ball, a ball made of animal skin.

England is also home to the world's first football league, which was founded in Birmingham in 1888 by Aston Villa director William McGregor.
