At the end of the hunting season in Spain, the galgos deemed worthless or too costly to maintain are destroyed in a variety of inhumane ways including being hanged, dumped into abandoned wells, shot, and even burned to death.

The Spanish greyhound, or galgo, is one of the most persecuted dog breeds in the world. Galgo rescue organizations are working to help these dogs find homes and provide them with the care and attention they need.

Each year, approximately 60,000 Spanish galgos (hunting dogs) are abandoned or tortured to death in Spain, especially in the communities of Castile and Leon, Extremadura and Andalusia. Galgos are primarily used by hunters (galgueros) to hunt hares and rabbits.

Galgos (Spanish Greyhounds) are a breed of dog that has been used for hunting for centuries. They are known for their speed and endurance, and are often used to hunt hares and rabbits. Unfortunately, many galgos are abandoned or mistreated by their owners, and end up in shelters or on the streets.
